ARSON CASE ON TRIAL.

W. W. Colburn Took Out Policy on Dec. 5. Had Fire Dec. 9.

Burlington, March 28.-The trial of against loss. state versus W. W. Colburn alias War-scriptions to enable him to publish his ren Colby on the charge of arson, was begun in Chittenden county court yes-terday. The respondent is charged legal, medical or historical work could with obtaining a fire insurance policy for $400 on some furniture, under false through the bookstores. There is no pretences and for later trying to collect reason why the occupation of agent for books should not as honoroble as any fire in his rooms at 364 North Winooski connected with sales effected by peravenue. The policy was placed in the American Central Insurance company of St. Louis through George E. Stratton, local agent.

The policy was issued on December 5 ald. attempt made to collect the insurance the following day.

The following jurors were summoned: Jerry Stone, Winooski; George E. Gokey, Winooski; Ernest Turrill, Richmond; Carlos Mayville, Milton; Barney Keefe, Willston; W. B. Nichols, Essex; Leo P. Irish, Shelburne; Floyd Foote, Charlotte; Heman Crooker, Burlington; Walter Heath, South Burlington; Her-Stevens, Huntington; E. A. Knight, Shelburne.

The respondent is represented by F. G. Webster. The state will attempt to prove that the furniture on which the policy was placed, did not wholly belong to the respondent and that it was not free of

A City's Cleanliness a City's Asset. The clean up and paint up spirit is abroad in the land and the movement is the most systematic and comprehensive of any movement of its kind yet launched, in that it aims to establish a spirit of cleanliness in the communities where it is carried out. Every effort in this direction enhances civic pride.

Along about May 1st is the date generally set aside for the commencement of this work. Our board of health has always signified its desire to promote this idea and further its enactment by co-operation with clubs, organizations, or individuals who will lend their aid to the general project of making Rutland a cleaner city.

That cleanliness is akin to Godliness should be accepted from the standpoint of a community as well as an individual. Every individual prides himself upon his personal apeparance. A suit well pressed, shoes that are clean, and linen that is immaculate go to make up one of good address.

by his clean linen and personal appearance so is a municipality judged by the condition of its streets, its buildings and other outward appearances.

It is the duty of every citizen who takes pride in Rutland to join in this WOOD BLOCK most commendable movement of "clean up" and "paint up." Rutland's cleanli-ness and neat appearance will prove to be Rutland's asset. People are attracted to a city which shows its self-respect by being tidy and presentable.—Rutland News.
